This format will definitely need your support and collaboration: Publishing committee will assign one country for distinguished Marketing Projects Article which will have a special name as Marketing Projects Without Borders. The same will be valid for Social Responsibility Projects with the name Asfarma, improving the quality of life.

Also, regular reporting of participated or organized events is key to have an informative and demonstrative lay out of Update from Events part.

For all those three sections Publishing Committee will be in close contact of country Marketing teams and provide standard reporting templates for the events.

Last but not least we kindly request high quality photos from the events not only demonstrating our activity during the event but clearly picturing the Asfarma branding in the event area.

Thank you very much in advance for your future collaboration and support for our brand new Asfarma bulletin: The Yellow Pigeon.
